Bomb Threat & Suspicious Package Response

A simple, practical foundation for responding to a bomb threat or a suspicious package calmly, consistently, and without amplifying the risk.

SERIES 4000 • FOUNDATION • V1.0 • FREE PREVIEW

SIMPLE. PRACTICAL. TRANSFERABLE.

Why This Matters

A bomb threat call or a suspicious package almost never happens the way training videos suggest — it's a confused caller or an ambiguous package, and without a rehearsed process the default reaction is improvisation under stress.

Bomb Threat & Suspicious Package Response gives the organization a calm, repeatable process for both scenarios: capturing information from a threatening call, evaluating a suspicious package without touching it, and who has authority to order an evacuation before law enforcement arrives.
