SB-7104

Leadership Security Training

Prepare executives for the moments a security program actually needs them — sponsorship, judgment, and crisis decisions.

SIMPLE. PRACTICAL. TRANSFERABLE.

Why This Matters

A security program's ceiling is set by its leadership. A policy leadership approves but never visibly reinforces gets treated as optional by everyone below them.

Leadership Security Training prepares executives for the moments the program actually needs them — visible sponsorship, evaluating reporting and budget requests on their merits, and sound crisis decisions in the first hour, before all the facts are in.
