SB-5103

Behavioral Threat Assessment

A simple, practical foundation for evaluating a specific person of concern before their behavior escalates — calmly, consistently, and on the facts.

SERIES 5000 • FOUNDATION • V1.0 • FREE PREVIEW

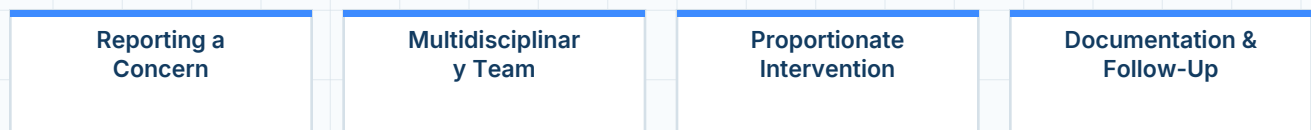

SIMPLE. PRACTICAL. TRANSFERABLE.

Why This Matters

A workplace violence policy tells the organization what's prohibited and how to respond once something happens. It doesn't answer an earlier question: what to do when a specific person's behavior is concerning, but nothing has happened yet.

Behavioral Threat Assessment gives the organization a formal, documented process for exactly this gap: a multidisciplinary team that evaluates a specific person of concern using a structured, fact-based approach, decides on proportionate intervention, and follows up over time.
